Thanksgiving Services Planned

Thanksgiving observances will be held in Andover, Thursday, in the traditional manner.

There will be religious services both tonight and tomorrow, along with the traditional football game, then the feasting on turkey with all the fixin's, and family get-togethers.

Tonight at 7:30 in Free Christian church, the Christ Episcopal and South church congregations will join with those of Free Church in a tri-parish Thanksgiving-Eve service.

Combined choirs from the three parishes will offer hymns and Miss Emily Preston, an ordained minister of the United Church of Christ will be the speaker.

Miss Preston worked with youth groups of Free Church here several years ago.

The tri-parish event is another movement of the three churches, which have been working together in an ecumenical spirit of unity during the past year.

The First Church of Christ

Scientist is planning a special Thanksgiving service on Thursday at 10:30 a.m. at the North Main street church.

Appointments Approved

Three appointments by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin were approved by the selectmen Monday night.

Mrs. Richard D. Hornidge and Dr. Fred G. Arragg, were named to the Memorial Hall Library trustees. Mrs. Hornidge will fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Elinore L. Washburn who retired. Her term will run until April, 1970. Dr. Arragg's term will run until April, 1971. He fills the unexpired term of Warren Lewis.

Dr. Lawrence Spiegel, 76 Holt road was named to the Industrial Development Commission to replace Leon J. Roversi, Jr. who had resigned.

Manager Prepares Preliminary Budget

Budget time has arrived and Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, tackling Andover's mushrooming costs for the first time, is preparing a preliminary report for the selectmen to be submitted next Monday.

According to the town manager charter, the upcoming budget is to be presented to the selectmen by Dec. 1.

Austin has received the budget requests from all department heads and has been reviewing them in individual meetings which are continuing this week.

As most everybody must realize, costs are up all around.

Austin told the TOWNSMAN Tuesday, that the budget procedure is a good one, "because I am learning through these meetings with department heads, who have been asked to justify their requests."

Built into the budgets this year, Austin explained, are some effects of inflation and also the full reflection of salary increases granted municipal employees a year ago.

Still to be considered are salary requests to be considered for the year ahead. In this regard, Austin is going through the negotiation meetings with police, fire and public works department representatives.

Also, the Evans Associates, which has done a salary survey for the town, has been granted an extension of time to complete their report. The report is now due by Dec. 15, according to the town manager.

Their recommendations will have a further effect on the 1970 municipal budget.

The school department is also in the bargaining process with its professional staff, as well as secretarial and custodial employees.

Austin said he would have a budget report by next Monday, but it will be to meet the statute

Parking Ban Begins Monday

The winter parking ban will begin at midnight Sunday.

All cars must be off the street as of Dec. 1 through April 1, according to town regulations.

The ban is to facilitate conditions resulting from snow and ice storms during the winter months.

Cars left on the street after midnight, are subject to fine and will be checked by the police department, beginning Monday morning.

Stowe School To Be Phased Out By West

The School Committee has unanimously approved a redistricting plan for the West Elementary School for next September when the West School addition opens.

In addition to setting new boundary lines to include some present Sanborn and Shawsheen pupils, the plan will retire Stowe School as a teaching facility. For two years, all of Central School's sixth graders are slated for the modern West School. Andover educators hope that at the end of that time, the proposed Central School addition will be ready to accommodate the entire Central School student body again for the first time in 19 years.

The same committee meeting also saw a realignment of administrative responsibility in the school department, in accordance with Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert's call for a reorganization of the business services. The cafeteria and custodial areas, formerly under the supervisor of general services, will now report directly to the superintendent.

The School Committee also asked Dr. Seifert to take personal charge of negotiations with the Custodian's Association, and the newly formed Andover Educational

Recreation Study Planned

A study of the town's recreation program will be carried out by a special committee to be named by the town manager.

The selectmen Monday night approved Town Manager J. Maynard Austin's proposal to name such a committee to evaluate the municipal recreation operations.

In effect, it is a result of a mutual meeting system instituted by the town's two newest administrators, the manager and Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert, superintendent of schools.

Austin, in his request to the selectmen Monday night, said that he felt an evaluation of the town's recreation program, the school department programs and plans of private organizations with regard to recreation, would prove beneficial.

The town sponsored recreation department was founded in 1962. Austin noted and has had a full time director since that time.

Dr. Seifert, Austin said, is making a study and review of the use of public schools by the community for other than educational purposes.

Austin said he felt it "an opportune time to reexamine the role the town recreation department should play in providing recreation in this community."

Through the study he hopes that a role for the recreation department and an understanding and im-

Conservation To Be Subject Of Meeting

The new face of conservation will be revealed as environmental lawyers, legislators, scientists, and planners address the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Audubon Society on Dec. 6.

Public as well as the Audubon membership is invited to attend. Registrations ($3.00 for the conference, $4.75 to include a buffet lunch) may be requested from Mass Audubon, Lincoln, 01773. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Victor Yannacone, fiery lawyer who advocated a ban on DDT in the Wisconsin courts, will highlight the day with his discussion of the new role of law in conservation. Massachusetts Governor Francis Sargent will round out the picture with his view of the legislative role in preserving the environment.

The part of industry and science will also be explored, and a special discussion of man's behavior in the light of his animal origins will be given by Charles Roth, Audubon's Director of Education. The conference, held at Wellesley Junior High School, begins at 10 a.m. and ends at 5 p.m. All conservationists should find the day a valuable one.

Wilson Named Ass't Manager At Western

Richard S. Wilson, 4 Napier Road, has been promoted to assistant manager, Picturephone, Test Set and Model Shop Engineering and Development, at the Indianapolis Works of Western Electric Company, effective Nov. 1. His previous assignment was department chief in engineering at the Merrimack Valley Works.

He holds a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Tufts College.

He joined Western Electric in 1955 as an assistant engineer at the company's Lawrence Plant, and was promoted to engineer in 1958. In 1962 he was promoted to department chief, and has held various assignments at that level.

He and his wife Patricia have two children: Beth, 13; and Douglas, 9.

Every second, the world over, births exceed deaths by more than two. The net increase in the earth's population is 7,500 per hour, 180,000 per day, the Massachusetts Audubon Society reports.

and really preliminary in form. "It is a real understanding process, at the moment," the new town manager explained.

As for the town's two major projects -- the public safety center and the West elementary school addition -- the town manager said he has not really been able to assess the damage, or delay, caused by the rainy weather earlier this month.

The projects were held up for a time, since workmen could not do the roofing on the safety center and other craftsmen were held up at the school addition.

Austin said both projects seemed to be moving along well now and appeared to be pretty near on schedule.

Some vandalism was caused at the safety center last weekend, but not serious enough to cause any further delay in the project, Austin reported.

Study Committee

Monday night the selectmen approved the appointment by the town manager of a Site Study Concept committee. The committee was suggested by Atty. Irving L. Newman at the special town meeting in October and is to look into the feasibility of acquiring a single site for all future new school construction.

It is to report back to the selectmen in late December in order to present the matter to the March town meeting.

Named to the committee were Eugene A. Bernardin, former selectman and a real estate, insurance firm owner, as chairman; Joseph R. Amante, 391 South Main St., supervisor, accountant; Ann Bedford, 180 Abbot St., housewife; Jean J. Chalifour, 286 South Main St., contractor; Norman P. Jensen, 26 Bellevue Road, mill manager; Atty. Irving L. Newman, 133 Lovejoy Road and Milton Victor, 100 Abbot St., insurance company production manager.

proved cooperation between various organizations would evolve.

Austin told the TOWNSMAN that he anticipated that such a study would take considerable time, but essentially would come up with answers to questions such as what are we doing and where are we going in the line of recreation,

REAL ESTATE CORNER

by Warren N. Bixby

Many factors have influenced the growth and development of real estate.

How did the invention of the automobile affect real estate?

Before the motorcar came along, people lived closely together in cities. Outlying areas were just for farming. Horse and trolley cars provided a traveling distance of about five miles.

Then came the invention of the "infernal machine"! People could now measure distances in minutes instead of miles. It became possible for a man to live comparatively far away from his place of business.

New living areas beyond city borders sprang up which were easily reached by automobile. "Downtown" soon was not the only area available for commercial property. Merchants had begun to see the necessity of establishing stores in the new living areas.

Ask your Realtor how the automobile affected the growth pattern of your city.

Christmas Concert At Museum

During December, there will be many enjoyable organ concerts at the Hammond Castle, Hesperus Avenue, in Gloucester. On Sunday, Dec. 7 at 4 p.m., the concert will be given by Douglas Rafter, organist with Monsignor Russell Davis, tenor, and Father Francis Strahan, baritone.

On Saturday, Dec. 13 and Sunday, Dec. 20, at 8:30 p.m., Kenneth Wilson will give his "Christmas at the Castle" concert.

On Sunday, Dec. 21 at 3 p.m., there will be the Fourth Annual Christmas Carol Sing with Mrs. Karl Witham, organist, and other featured singers including the well-known Singing Cahoon Family.

Those attending should order tickets early as the popular concerts are sold out early. Write the Hammond Castle or call for more information regarding the concerts.

PLANNING SESSION. Members of the Andover Chamber of Commerce met last week for a planning session, to work on promotions for downtown Andover for the coming year. Here members of the Retail Planning committee are shown discussing the various promotions which will be conducted by chamber members during the coming year, beginning with the Christmas holiday program beginning early next month.

A Fantastic 'Boston Arm'

A spectacular breakthrough in the conquest of disability can be viewed at Boston's Museum of Science in a new prosthetic device known as "The Boston Arm" which has just been placed on display. Developed by researchers at four Boston institutions, the ingenious limb differs from its predecessors in its ability to perform tasks inconceivable with old-style artificial arms.

A user of "The Boston Arm" can bring a telephone receiver to his ear and a cup of coffee to his lips -- acts almost impossible heretofore for above-elbow amputees. He can lift items weighing up to seven pounds and perform many previously difficult activities of daily living with completely natural variations of speed and force.

The limb was developed under a cooperative six-year program at Massachusetts General Hospital, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Harvard Medical School, and Liberty Mutual Insurance Company. It will be on exhibit on the Museum's second floor through the rest of November and all of December.

On Friday evenings, special lecture-demonstrations of the device are given at frequent intervals. At other times, a push-button permits visitors to operate the exhibit themselves.

Through electrodes taped to the skin over an amputee's remaining muscles, the artificial limb employs tiny electrical signals generated when a muscle is tensed. These minute voltages, known as EMG (electromyographic) signals are then amplified and used to control a small motor in the forearm of the prosthesis.

Thus a process which is subconscious for those with normal arms is taken over for amputees by an electrical system, the control of which is accomplished with only a few hours of training.

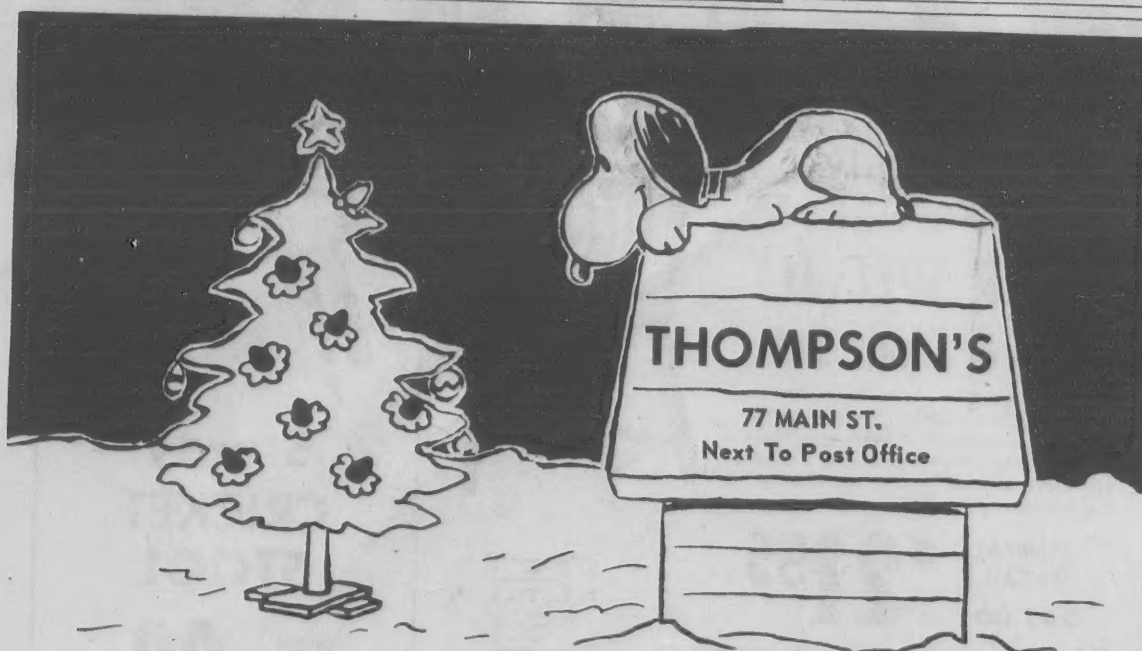

A special demonstration for convening members of the American Association for the Advancement of Science will be given on December 27, with an amputee showing the operation of the limb. This evening is not open to the general public.

The device weighs four and one-half pounds, about the weight of an adult human arm. In its skin-like fiberglass casing it contains a tiny package of electronic components (the equivalent of 250 transistors) and a minute electric motor. A pack of silver-zinc batteries worn at the belt provides sufficient power to keep the arm moving continuously for six hours; power also can be obtained from any conventional electrical outlet.

A Massachusetts engineering firm, EG&G, has been given rights to manufacture, service, and further develop the arm. It is expected that the device will be made available commercially to thousands of above-elbow amputees within a few years. Presently, nine are in use in various parts of the country.

Among the hundreds of occupations for which the disadvantaged are being trained in the Job Opportunities in the Business Sector (JOBS) program is that of Desma laster. This is the fellow who tends a battery of "Desma" combination lasting and molding machines, which mold rubber outsoles onto fabric uppers to make low-top sports shoes.

Despite the increasing need for household workers, the number of people so employed has dropped from 1.9 million in 1960 to less than 1.7 million in 1968. To satisfy the need for more household workers, the U.S. Department of Labor is conducting experimental projects in seven cities to determine if the field of household employment can be upgraded sufficiently to make a more attractive occupation.

DR. PHILIP F. DOYLE

Dr. Philip F. Doyle, 56, 12 Chestnut St., was pronounced dead on arrival at Lawrence General Hospital where he was taken by the Andover Fire Department ambulance at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 19.

He was born in East Pepperell, Aug. 2, 1913. He had been a resident of Andover for 25 years where he practiced dentistry.

A Navy line officer during World War II he was a graduate of St. James High School, Haverhill, Boston College and Tufts University Dental School.

He was a member of the Massachusetts Dental Society and the Merrimack Valley Dental Society.

He attended St. Augustine's Church, and was a member of the Holy Name Society.

He is survived by his wife, the former Eleanor Daly; two sons, Philip J. and Mark F.; three daughters, Eleanor, wife of Robert F. Smith, Anne M. and Joanne Doyle, all of Andover; also two grand-

Good Response To Bloodmobile

There was a gratifying response to the Community Bloodmobile held at the South Church last week. 224 pints of blood were collected in the two-day visit.

Gerald H. Silverman, chairman of the Andover Red Cross Blood Program emphasizes that besides the donations many volunteer hours were given in advance in the recruitment of donors and in the preparation of facilities and during the bloodmobile.

Other volunteers who assisted as registrars, typists, hosts and can-teen workers were: Miss Bessie Coutts, Albert Curtis, Kenneth Wade, Mrs. Fay Elliott, Mrs. P. W. Moody, Mrs. John Hall, Jr., Mrs. Frederick Hulme, Mrs. George Cady, Mrs. Carl Oberg, Mrs. Roger Lewis, Mrs. David Fleming, Mrs. Stephen Bull, Mrs. Leon Field, Mrs. Matthew Coumans, Mrs. Arthur Jones, Mrs. Dixon Penick, Mrs. Kenneth Fitzgerald, Mrs. Abbott Batchelder, Mrs. Gordon Robb, Mrs. Bruno Wotjkin, Mrs. Russell MacLeish, Mrs. Joseph Tavern.

New Andover Firms Assist Junior Achievers

Buzzing band saws, swirling circular saws, humming sanders, added to the din of happy teenage voices at 1600 Osgood St., North Andover, can only mean Junior Achievement -- a teen-age activity that works. And work it does with the help of adult business leaders who volunteer man hours to make it a success.

Junior Achievement -- designed so high school teenagers can learn the "ins and outs" of the operation of a corporation by actually doing it and not just reading about it. Fifty years of developing since its inception back in 1919 at Springfield, by Bruce A. Moses, philanthropist-executive, has proved that Junior Achievement of Eastern Massachusetts has what it takes to make it work.

Unique in 1919, Junior Achievement is still the only organization nationally that helps young people discover for themselves the benefits of our private enterprise economy and the rewards that come of individual initiative and personal incentive. The need for this program has never been more obvious than today.

It's good to have a past, when you're in business for the future. And Junior Achievement is in business for the future, the future of our nation, its youth, and the American Free Enterprise system.

Hundreds of subscribers have joined in by supporting J. A. Those that go beyond this point and take one step further are such firms as Bell Telephone Laboratories, Inc., Gillette Toiletries Co., Inc., and Western Electric Co., Inc., all in their first year of participating as counselling firms for J. A. companies.

Add to this roll such schools as Lawrence High, Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High, and Sacred Heart High, who give J. A. the green light because educators endorse this program. Mix all these together and the youth of Andover, Lawrence, and Methuen, are that much richer for their experience.

International Festival Planned

An International Festival Workshop will be held at the Unitarian-Universalist church, Lowell St., Sunday, Dec. 7 from 2-4 p.m. The festival is planned in place of the Christmas workshop. Many festival activities have been planned for participation by the children. Among countries to be represented will be Greece, Germany and Japan. Refreshments will be served and price of admission will be a plate of cookies.

Once in the air, many insects stay there easily because of air pockets in their bodies. Grasshoppers have been seen 1000 miles at sea, mosquitoes at one mile above the earth, and bees six miles up, the Massachusetts Audubon Society reports.

The Line Of Defense

Traditional Grid Contest Thursday

Andover High will be at least three point favorites over traditional rival, North Andover in the Thanksgiving day football game Thursday at 10 a.m. at the Eugene V. Lovely Memorial field.

Dedication exercises will precede the kickoff, when both teams will line the field and committee members will formally dedicate the field in memory of Eugene V. Lovely, football coach and headmaster of Punchard High school from 1911 to 1941.

The series dates back to 1911 and Andover high has not been beaten by the Scarlet Knights from the suburban town since 1957.

North Andover comes into the holiday classic with a losing record, not having won a single game all season.

The Golden Warriors, with a 4-4 season record seem assured of a winning season, although coaches of both clubs engaged in these traditional rivalries, are hesitant to predict an outcome, since there is so much spirit and meaning to the contest.

Andover would seem ready to capture once again the Little Three crown, having beaten Methuen 36-0 over a week ago. The winners of the Andover-North Andover-Methuen rivalries, is traditionally crowned the champion of the tri-town competition.

Dick Collins, coach of the Golden Warriors, looks for a tough game from the North Andover team, noting particularly the tradition contained in the contest.

The Andover club has an explosive offense. Guided by Quarterback Con Pattullo, the backs include Dave Hixon, Van Debose and Bill Moriarty, can carry the ball well and arrive in touchdown territory in a hurry.

In the season, Andover has scored 128 points, while its defense has limited the opposition to 98 points.

Coach Bob Roche, rounding out his first season at the helm for the Scarlet Knights, feels his team is up physically and mentally for "THE GAME."

It has been a long season for the North Andover club, having scored only 40 points against the opposition's 264.

Northern Essex Adopts Cap For Nurse Program

Students in the Northern Essex Community College Nursing program recently created and adopted a nursing cap to be worn by students and future graduates of the college's nursing department. The cap was designed by Rosemary Jaskelevicus, a student in the nursing program.

Designed to symbolize both the college and nursing program, the cap is essentially a small white organdy triangle with a delicate organdy double ruffle. Circling the center of the ruffle is a grey cloth band that matches the student nurses' uniforms.

The symbolism of the cap is tied to the college seal. The shape of the cap conforms to the triangular shape of the crest of the seal. The school motto, "Yet More Light," is represented by the translucent organdy material. The fact that Northern Essex is a two-year college is expressed by the double ruffle and grey band that circumscribe the cap. Upon graduation, the students will change the grey band to black.

Northern Essex will graduate its first class in the Associate Degree in Nursing program this coming June.

WINS LETTER

Dale Inman of Andover has been presented a letter from the University of Maine, where he was a member of the University of Maine, Orono, Maine, for his participation with the school's football team.

Athletic Field Dedication To Precede Thursday Game

Dedication ceremonies are scheduled for Thursday at 10 a.m. prior to the kickoff at the Andover-North Andover game at the Eugene V. Lovely field.

The field will be formally dedicated to the memory of the late coach and headmaster of Puncard High school, which preceded the current Andover high school in the local field of public secondary education.

Walter Pearson, a member of Coach Lovely's 1932 football team will be the master of ceremonies.

The playing of "America," will be by the Andover High school band. To be introduced for short dedication addresses will be Joseph B. Doherty of the class of 1927 and J. Everett Collins, who was on the first team coached by Mr. Lovely in 1911.

A presentation will be made by Irving J. Whitcomb, '27, and the unveiling of the plaque will be made by Sarkis Sarkisian, '52, president of the Puncard-Andover Alumni Association; Dorothy E. Towne, '41, first president of the combined alumni association; Whitcomb, Philip F. Wormwood, '39, principal of Andover High school and Charles V. Lovely, '36, son of the late coach-headmaster and now principal of Marblehead High school.

The Puncard Ode will be given and the Andover High band will accompany the raising of the colors.

Rev. J. Edison Pike, rector of Christ Episcopal church, and president of the Puncard Free School trustees, will offer benediction.

The National Anthem, played by the band will conclude the ceremonies.

Members of the Andover and North Andover football teams, with their coaches will line the field during the ceremonies prior to the kickoff.

The dedication and the plaque has been arranged by members of Coach Lovely's teams of the over 30 years he coached here in Andover.

Any and all members of the teams, have been invited to participate in the ceremonies.

Contributions toward the program are still being accepted by the committee.

Apples, Squash On Scene

The last full week of shopping before Thanksgiving finds supermarkets and roadside stands well stocked with produce from local farms, with numerous varieties of apples and squash sharing top rating on the list of "best buys" announced by the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture. McIntosh apples are an especially good buy, with Cortlands, Red and Golden Delicious, Baldwins and Macouns also plentiful and economical. Menu-planners are advised to stock up early on squash at this week's lower prices, since all varieties -- acorn, Blue Hubbard, buttercup and butternut -- will stay firm and fresh several weeks at room temperatures.

Carrots, green cabbage, red and Savoy cabbage are plentiful and reasonably priced, as are cauliflower, bulk cranberries, greenhouse lettuce, greenhouse tomatoes, potatoes, parsnips, turnips, spinach and Bosc pears.

Large and jumbos are the best egg buys, and housewives are cautioned to order fresh turkeys early to be certain of having such a premium tasting bird from the limited supply.

Guy Paris of the Dept. of Agriculture, veteran reporter, broadcaster and investigator of agricultural doings, authors this week's timely recipe for native ingredients, proposing that Bay Staters can do no better in planning their squash course for the holiday dinner than to emulate "the old-timers" in utilizing a whole buttercup squash for the family dinner. "Old-Time Baked Squash: Scoop out center and seeds from whole buttercup squash without splitting. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dab of butter and a little honey. Bake at 375 F. 45 minutes or until tender.

AGRI-FACT: What's the origin of "an apple a day keeps the doctor away?" In Old England this saying: "Ate an apple afore gwain to bed, makes the doctor beg his bread."

Vivé la Difference!

Bay State's Master Charge Card is different! And it's different in a way that you, the card-holder will appreciate. Here are just two of the differences:

Early Bird Gifts Worth Crowing About!

To get you fully acquainted with your Master Charge Card from Bay State, we have developed this special Early Bird Gift offer exclusively for Bay State Master Charge Cardholders.

Use your Master Charge Card to purchase goods and services you use every day. As soon as your purchases add up to $100, $200, or $300 (not including cash advances) you may select the gift you want from our Early Bird Gift Brochure. Our only requirement is that you make your purchases prior to December 31, 1969.

The Early Bird Gift Brochure is available at any office of the Bay State Merchants National Bank and at Master Charge Retailers.

Cardguard Protection for Master Charge!

Cardguard Protection is another exclusive service offered by Bay State Merchants National Bank to its Master Charge Cardholders for all their credit cards. Here is complete protection at nominal costs. Cardguard protection includes:

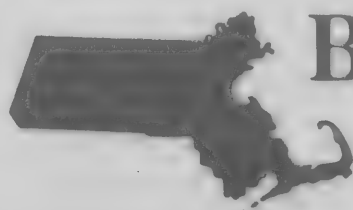

Registration — When you enroll, you register all your charge cards, not just Master Charge. These are kept on file by the insurance company. Coverage is extended to all your credit cards.

Notification — Should you lose any or all of your credit cards, you simply call one number and give the information to one person, one time, and all your notification problems are ended. The insurance company then takes over and discharges all your obligations to notify companies of lost cards.

Insurance — You can select the amount of coverage you desire, from $1,000 to $5,000 and take the worry out of using credit cards. This is insurance against loss, and liability caused by any instance of lost, stolen or fraudulently used credit cards.

CARDGUARD PROTECTION PLAN
PLEASE ENROLL ME IN YOUR CARDGUARD PROTECTION PLAN. Drug Problem Explained At Women's Club Meeting

"Marijuana is the most dangerous drug around today," declared Dr. James A. O'Shea as he addressed the annual Men's Night meeting of the Shawsheen Village Woman's Club held Monday evening at the Greater Lawrence Regional and Technical High School. Dr. O'Shea pointed out that despite the fact that marijuana may not be physically addictive, it can very rapidly become psychologically addictive. Users increasingly withdraw from school tasks and activities and other day-to-day demands.

Dr. O'Shea outlined the purposes of "Reality, Inc.," a walk-in drug clinic recently organized with the support of local service groups, business leaders and clergy, and he discussed the drug problem in the Greater Lawrence area. Mrs. Richard O'Neill, chairman of the community improvement committee of the Shawsheen Village Woman's Club announced that this committee had voted to devote their activities during the coming year to assisting in this drug problem.

Mrs. Arthur P. Seikunas, president, presided at the affair attended by more than 200 members and their husbands. The Cape Tastics, a quartette of talented young singers, provided a lively program of show tunes and classics. Mrs. Maurice Bailey and Mrs. Charles Allen were the hostess chairmen for the evening, assisted by Mrs. Herbert Andersen, flower chairman.

Of the 4,248 minority apprentices in the Department of Labor's Apprenticeship Outreach program, half are in four building and construction trades. These include carpentry, 854; electrical, 481; pipe trades, 399; and painting, 381.

Raytheon Missile Test Successful

A successful launch environmental test of the Army's new SAM-D missile has been announced by Raytheon Company's Missile Systems Division. The full-scale, flight-weight missile model was fired from a non-tactical canister and launcher.

For the test, a short-burn motor was used to prove out the bazooka-like launch technique that will be used with the tactical system. The test was conducted by Martin Marietta's Orlando Division, developer of the missile and canister, at its test facility.

SAM-D is being designed as a highly mobile Army air defense system for the 1970s against high-performance aircraft and short-range missiles. The novel technique for launching the missile from the same canister in which it is shipped and carried aboard its launch vehicle is part of a "certified round" concept around which the system is designed.

The weather-proof canister provides protection for the missile from the time it is manufactured until it is fired, and also provides a launch tube for aiming and firing the missile.

When deployed in the field, SAM-D missiles will be carried in multiples and launched from tracked vehicles. It can be fired either singly or in close salvo sequence. The system will use an advanced phased array radar and fire control equipment, also carried on mobile vehicles, capable of simultaneously handling multiple targets.

The SAM-D project is managed by the U.S. Army Missile Command, Redstone Arsenal, Alabama. Raytheon Company is prime contractor for the system, and Martin Marietta a principal subcontractor to Raytheon.

North Named

James E. Ellis

The president of the Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, Roger N. Bower, announced the selection of a vice president for the chamber business organization.

James E. Ellis, native of North Carolina, now serving as mayor of Greater Hickory, N.C., was named to the position. He is expected to assume his duties effective Jan. 1. The action of the Chamber meeting Monday.

The executive position has been vacant since October. Executive, Justin T. Bower, resigned to accept a position with the Water Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Bower stated that the selection of Mr. Ellis was the result of numerous interviews and that his appointment was by unanimous action of the Selection and Board of Directors.

The young North Carolina native has over 20 years of Chamber management and a U. S. Chamber of Commerce award. He was quoted as follows: "The Chamber has the finest Chamber of Commerce for its popularity in the Southeast and nationwide." The Hickory Chamber of Commerce is accredited by the Chamber of Commerce International. There are approximately 100 Chambers in the Greater Lawrence area. With Hickory, are the only in the nation to have received the seal of accreditation.

Mr. Ellis' Chamber began in Asheville, N.C., in 1961 as Director of the Asheville Chamber of Commerce. Prior to that position for five years with the Asheville Chamber of Commerce, he was active as a staff member. During his five years with the Asheville Chamber of Commerce, it tripled in size and was increased from 100 to 300 members.

He has been active in professional organizations and was recently elected to the North Carolina Chamber of Commerce.

North Carolina Native Named To Chamber Post

James E. Ellis

The president of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, Roger N. Bower, announced today the selection of a new executive vice president for this area's leading business organization.

James E. Ellis, a 35-year-old native of North Carolina, who is now serving as manager of the Greater Hickory North Carolina Chamber of Commerce, is expected to assume his duties here effective Jan. 1. The appointment of Mr. Ellis was completed by action of the Chamber director's meeting Monday.

The executive position has been vacant since October when former executive, Justin T. Horan, resigned to accept a similar position with the Waterbury, Conn. Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Bower stated the selection of Mr. Ellis came only after numerous interviews with other qualified candidates and his appointment was by unanimous decision of the Selection Committee and Board of Directors.

The young North Carolina executive has over seven years of Chamber management experience and a U. S. Chamber spokesman was quoted as follows "Hickory has the finest Chamber of Commerce for its population group in the Southeast and perhaps in the nation." The Hickory organization is accredited by the National Chamber as is the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce. There are approximately 3,000 Chambers in the nation and the Greater Lawrence Chamber, along with Hickory, are two of only 145 in the nation to have received the seal of accreditation.

Mr. Ellis' Chamber career began in Asheville, North Carolina in 1961 as Director of Membership and Civic Affairs for the Asheville Chamber of Commerce. Prior to that position he worked for five years with a printing and mail advertising agency in that city. During his commercial work he was active as a volunteer in the Chamber and this prompted him to seek employment as a full-time staff member.

During his five years as executive of the Greater Hickory Chamber of Commerce, the staff tripled in size and membership was increased from 500 to 950.

He has been active in many professional organizations and was just recently elected treasurer of the North Carolina Chamber Executives Association. Had he not left the state, he would have expected to serve as president of the state association in two more years. The United Fund, Boy Scouts, Educational Foundations and several civic organizations have also added to his community development experience.

Mr. Ellis and his wife, Kay, have two sons, ages 7 and 8, and a girl, age 4.

They have been visiting in the area for the past several days and hope to locate a home prior to their move the first of the year.

Christmas Concerts Scheduled

The Merrimack College Concert Band and Glee Club will present a Christmas Concert of sacred music on Thursday evening, Dec. 11, at 8 p.m. in the Chapel of Christ the Teacher, Merrimack College, North Andover.

Both organizations will be giving their first concert under their new music director, Professor Frederic Frabotta.

The concert will consist of several numbers by the combined band and glee club, and several by each group alone. Included in the program will be works by Bach and Britten, traditional Italian and Spanish carols, and a Christmas Cantata, "The Eternal Light," by Alexander Matthews. Soloists will be Constance Patti, Judy Begin, Eleanor Aleksinos, Barbara Witkos, and William Cashman.

Tickets are available from any member of either organization and will also be sold at the door.

Faculty Examines Society

A growing desire to understand the contemporary teenager, to motivate him in this newly emerging society, and to help create in him an awareness and appreciation of his environment has led some of the teachers of East Junior High to the formation of a group for mutual exchange of ideas.

A better understanding of human relations is "what it's all about." Concerned faculty members have spent ten weekly meetings in informal open-ended discussion. Topics under consideration have been a course in the humanities, perceptual awareness, sensitivity training, and enhanced communication.

GOP Chairman To Speak Here

Josiah Spaulding, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, will address the Republican Town committee, Wednesday, Dec. 3 at Cooley House, Phillips Academy at 8 p.m.

The public is invited to join with the local GOP group and hear Mr. Spaulding's comments on party activities.

Even Pilgrims Had Indigestion

A Pilgrim who suffered indigestion after an early Thanksgiving dinner was in rather a bad way.

The practice of medicine in the early 17th century still was fogged by the hazy concepts of the Middle Ages. It was, in fact, largely a branch of botany -- and heaven help the man or woman who must depend upon a botanist for a cure.

The ancient Greeks who gave botany its name -- "Botany" roughly is a Greek term for "the study of what cows eat" -- knew more about actual beneficial medical practice than did the early doctors of Plymouth. Plymouth medicine still followed the idea that a Wise Maker had left clues strewn about the landscape, and that all a physician need do was recognize the clues and he could work miraculous cures.

These clues which Providence provided were plants whose leaves, roots or fruits suggested some part of the human anatomy. One of the better-known of these in America was the hepatica, a plant whose leaves were shaped roughly like the human liver. Thus, the botanical physician would recognize immediately that a brew -- or possibly a poultice -- of hepatica was the cure for liver trouble.

The plant known as boneset -- since its opposite leaves are joined at the base like a healed fracture -- obviously was beneficial in the treatment of broken bones.

This pursuit of plants that looked like Adam's apples and so forth was known as "the doctrine of signatures" -- since the Creator had quite clearly signed the worth of the material by shaping it.

Recently a botanical friend supplied me with a list of herbs -- or medicines -- found in an English physician's medical chest that supposedly was reliably dated to 1618. The original list had been submitted to Plymouth Plantation which does considerable probing into culture of that era.

Unfortunately, there seems to be no note with the particular chest which would throw further light upon the use that the owner made of the herbs. Part of the early colonial doctor's problem lay in the uncertainty of his diagnosis. While diagnosis still is the key to successful medical practice, a lot more guesswork went into the colonial doctor's diagnosis since he lacked modern tools. In other words, even the early doctors who had abandoned the theory that all illness was punishment for sin had to make two guesses: they had to guess what was wrong with the patient and then guess what might cure the patient.

Among the scientific names of herbs identified in the chest were many that bore the final work "officinalis." In botanical medicine, "officinalis" was used to designate the species, from among several similar subspecies, that was the correct one for medical use.

Without resorting to scientific names, the list of herbs in the chest consisted of: Angelica water, anise oil, dill oil, lemon balm, basil salve, beet oil, beet water, camphor, cardamon, corn oil, dillanthus salve, elder oil, honeywort, lily oil, mint water, parsley oil, peppermint, turpentine, plantain water, poplar salve, poppy oil, rose oil, rose water, scorpionwort oil, tarragon, thistle water, wood oil, wormwood oil, wormwood water, and an ointment containing gold.

Corn oil still is a good medicine to fight high cholesterol in the blood stream after a Thanksgiving dinner.

Newburyport Art Center Opens

After three years of searching, Newburyport Art Association has bought a permanent home at 65 Water St. and plans to open its third annual Christmas Exhibition and Sale Saturday, Nov. 29, at the "new" gallery.

Featured in the exhibition will be smaller paintings and the outstanding and popular craft work of NAA members. Artists of NAA represent all of Northern Essex County and the New Hampshire and southern Maine coastal area, since the 22-year-old association is the major year round art organization north of Rockport.

A large force of members is hard at work preparing the historic brick waterfront building for its first exhibition. Located next to the square brick lighthouse that is Newburyport's Motif Number One, the new gallery is a few hundred yards south of the historic Market Square area that will soon be a first-in-the-nation restoration project for urban renewal.

Present plans call for keeping the Christmas exhibition open at least every weekend through Christmas, affording the visitor with a taste of Newburyport's delightful combination of a romantic seafaring history and very vital resurgence of the arts.

NAA is a prime moving factor in the Port City's newly formed Art Council, working with cultural and business interests to help nurture and direct the healthy growth of New England's newest cultural center.

Almost all portage trails of the northern canoe country were made by moose. The Indians followed the network of paths that the moose tramped out from one lake to another.

In A Word...

Dream

Scientists are now beginning to come up with some of the answers to the phenomenon of dreaming. Ancient peoples could offer no factual explanation for the mixed-up ideas and thoughts that disturbed their slumber.

They did know, however, that these mental "motion pictures" troubled and disturbed the mind during sleep. That is why that many people ascribe the derivation of the word "dream" to the old Anglo-Saxon term drejan which meant to trouble or disturb.

Camellia Ball Plans Progress Win Letters

THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN, NOVEMBER 26, 1969

Mrs. Vincent P. Morton

Velvet and crystal will be combined with the traditional camellias, fresh greens, and candle light to transform The Andover Country Club into a winter garden fantasy for The Annual Camellia Ball sponsored by the Lawrence General Hospital Aid Association.

Responsible for this setting is the decorations committee chaired by Mrs. Vincent P. Morton, Jr., with Mrs. George H. Bragdon and Mrs. Kenneth A. McKusick as design co-chairmen. They will be assisted by the ball general co-chairmen Mrs. William G. Kurth and Mrs. George F. Redman as well as by the following committee members: Mrs. William T. Bride, Jr., Mrs. Donald A. Gordon, Mrs. Richard A. Katz, Mrs. Edward R. Marston, Mrs. Lee R. McClary, Mrs. Rudolph Muto, Mrs. Harold O. Nadler, Mrs. Dudley Robinson, Mrs. Frank J. Sherman, III, Mrs. Donald Slipp, Mrs. James D. Wilson, and Mrs. Milton Victor.

The much sought for scarlet and white invitations to this gala event have recently been received by the many friends of the Lawrence General Hospital. Mrs. Willard H. Currier, chairman of invitations, has been aided by many members of the general committee including among others Mrs. Richard W. Baldwin, Mrs. Lyman G. Bullard, Mrs. Andrew A. Caffrey, Mrs. Frederick C. Cuthbertson, Mrs. Michael A. Gravalles, Mrs. Julian S. Kaiser, Mrs. Daniel P. Kiley, Jr., Mrs. Cornelius J. McCarthy, Mrs. John D. Phillips, Mrs. Robert W. Phinney, Mrs. Charles W. Smith, Mrs. Walter C. Tomlinson, and Mrs. Louis M. Warlick.

Mrs. Douglas N. Howe is in charge of the many festive cocktail and dinner parties that will precede the ball.

Other members of the general committee are Mrs. Phillip K. Allen, Mrs. Abraham Ash, Mrs. Robert Saltonstall, Mrs. Charles W. Selfert, Mrs. Dean K. Webster, Jr., and Mrs. Albert S. Rothseid, publicity.

Mrs. John J. McArdle, Jr., president of the aid association, is a member of the committee, ex officio.

Win Letters

Two Andover young men have been awarded letters at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, for their participation on the championship football team this past season.

Bowdoin won Maine's second consecutive state championship this past season and assisting in winning the title were Mark L. Haley and Dale H. Tomlinson, both of Andover.

is a brilliantly conceived collection of fine furniture in which the pure, timeless motifs of the oriental are combined with exquisite contemporary design. Themes which have stood the test of centuries are adapted to suit our contemporary mode of living and teamed with elegantly refined new designs for a group that is distinctly of the present tense.

Since the early 18th century, furniture designers in the Western World have been influenced by oriental design. In England, the great cabinet maker Thomas Chippendale borrowed many design motifs from the orient - particularly the Pagoda, dragon foot, and the geometric openwork slat. In his day, "Chinese Chippendale" became a definitive style. And in our century, designers have still been intrigued by the pure lines and simple rectilinear forms found in oriental design. In Circa 75, these ancient themes have been edited and scaled to make them completely appropriate for today's living requirements. For example, a slip-top table with clear oriental lines can be used as a sofa table, a desk, or dining table for six. And the chest theme, one of the most important in oriental design, becomes a cocktail chest that can double as a cocktail table in the living room, functioning beautifully for both storage and serving.

Merrimack College Team Compete On College Bowl

Show time is drawing near for the four Merrimack College seniors who compose the team which will appear on the General Electric College Bowl. The competition will be taped on Nov. 29, on Channel 4 (Boston) at 2:30 p.m.

David DeFillippo, Gerald Murphy, Michael Rossi, and Joan Warchol have been working with team coach Dr. Catherine Murphy of the English Department since last spring to prepare for Merrimack's appearance against either Johns Hopkins or Pacific Lutheran on the nationally televised quiz show. The four have undergone extensive training programs and have conducted intensive individual courses of study to develop the broadest possible base of team knowledge. In addition to the specific directed studies, the team has faced several volunteer teams off campus members and outside teams such as a team at Walpole Prison. These practice matches are conducted like the actual game, and serve to give the team poise and speed in answering which will be so important in the actual televised game.

David DeFillippo is a 21 year old Economics major, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo DeFillippo, 88 Myrtle St., Lawrence. His hobbies are tennis, bowling, basketball, and billiards. He is a presidential scholar and received the Men of Merrimack Scholarship. He was also nominated for a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship and a National Science Foundation Fellowship. He is engaged to Miss Kathleen Begley of Lawrence, and he hopes to become a professor of Economics.

Gerald Murphy is a 21 year old chemistry major. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murphy, 16 Passaconaway Ave., Haverhill. His hobbies are coin collecting and magic, and he is active in the On-Stagers and Benzene Ring at Merrimack. Gerry is a proctor-tutor at ABC Dorm in Andover and a recipient of a 1970 Woodrow Wilson Fellowship and a Danforth Fellowship. He is a recipient of a Men of Merrimack Scholarship and is a presidential scholar. He is engaged to Miss Ella Mae Perkins of Haverhill, and aspires to teach

Foster Families To Be Honored

On Saturday, Nov. 29, Old Sturbridge Village in Sturbridge, and the Division of Child Guardianship are having a very special celebration. Foster Families throughout the various communities in the entire State are being honored by a day of appreciation at Sturbridge Village.

From 9:30 a.m. until 6 p.m. the Foster Families will be enjoying the various points of interest throughout the Village. Here life as it was lived by the early settlers is depicted and one may enjoy the beautiful surroundings. Being in such a peaceful place of beauty and dignity would seem to be a happy and fitting way for the Division of Child Guardianship to say thank you to the many hundreds of Foster Parents who help us to help thousands of children. Gathering together to give "Thanksgiving", is much more meaningful this year because all these great Foster Parents are loving and caring for one or more of 12,000 children who are Foster Children in the care of the Division of Child Guardianship.

on the college level.

Michael Rossi is a 21 year old English major, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rossi, 263 North Main St., East Longmeadow. He is a presidential scholar, Art Editor of the Merrimack Review, a member of the Warrior staff, and a member of the English Club. His hobbies include painting, gardening, writing, and stamp collecting. He hopes to teach on the college level after graduation.

Joan Warchol is also an English major. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Warchol, 11 Savage St., Haverhill. Joan is a presidential scholar attending Merrimack on the Eudora Feehan Scholarship. She is a member of the Warrior staff, the German Club, the English Club, and Alpha Mu Gamma. Her hobbies are writing and drawing. She was nominated for the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship and for the Danforth Fellowship, and hopes to teach on the college level.

Team coach is Dr. Catherine Murphy of the Department of English. With the aid of several other faculty members, Dr. Murphy has been preparing the team for the forthcoming competition since last spring.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

A fifty cent grab bag present exchange will be part of the Haven Associates Christmas party, it was announced today. Everyone attending is asked to bring some small item - not over fifty cents - to exchange. The Christmas party for Andover's senior citizens will be held Thursday afternoon, Dec. 11, from 2 to 5, at the Andover Baptist Church. There will be light refreshments and reservations are a must. If you are planning to attend, please call The Haven (475-3968) and let them know.

And while you're making your reservation for the Christmas party, why not also sign up for the December luncheon, Tuesday, Dec. 2 at the Vocational High School? The bus will leave at its regular departure time - 12:30 - to transport those needing transportation to the school for the luncheon which will be served at 1 p.m.

Dec. 9 the Haven Associates are sponsoring a trip to Burlington Mall to see the Christmas decorations and for shopping. The bus will leave the Haven at 10 a.m. and return mid-afternoon. Total transportation cost - $1.25. Reservations are necessary and should be made at the Haven.

'Y' Holds Annual Meeting

The first annual meeting of the new Andover Young Men's Christian Association was held on Tuesday of last week in the Andover Art Attic of the Andover YMCA.

Interested adult members and friends of the association gathered for the session. Reports of Fred H. Harrison, president; Executive Director Richard P. Cate and Treasurer Frank Markey were presented.

Rev. Paul T. Keyes gave the invocation and benediction.

Greetings of the town were brought to the organization by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, and General Director Edward B. Bruce spoke for the parent organization, the Lawrence YMCA. Mrs. David M. Thompson, United Fund Representative to the Andover YMCA, expressed the interest of the United Fund in the progress of the Andover agency.

Reports detailed the expanded program of the past year which served a membership which has now gone over the 3,000 mark with a total attendance of 58,708. Progress reports on plans for the proposed new family type YMCA building included the work of the site and facilities development committee and the preliminary survey conducted by a professional fund raising organization with most encouraging results. Colored slides depicting many aspects of the program proved interesting and a coffee hour climaxed the evening.

Nominating committee chairman, Stafford Lindsay presented a slate of nominees and the following officers were duly elected: president, Fred H. Harrison; first vice president, Charles W. Smith; second vice president, Ronald E. Guittarr; secretary, Mrs. Edward W. Stupack; treasurer, David MacDonald, Jr.; assistant treasurer, Douglas Howe.

Newly elected directors included J. John Berger, John Bullis, Bernard J. Ristuccia, Patrick S. Rogers, George E. Heseltine and Walter C. Wilson, Jr.; all other directors were carried over from the now defunct Board of the Andover Youth Center. The first Andover YMCA Directorate was elected as follows: one year - J. John Berger, John Bullis, Mrs. Robert C. Gaynor, Bernard J. Ristuccia, Patrick S. Rogers; two years, Eugene Bernardin, Jr., James Doherty, George E. Heseltine, Stafford Lindsay, Mrs. John C. Young; three years - Rev. Paul T. Keyes, Mrs. Richard Moody, Harold Rutter, Charles W. Smith, Walter C. Wilson, Jr.; four years - Ronald E. Guittarr, Fred H. Harrison, Douglas Howe, David MacDonald, Jr., Mrs. Edward W. Stupack.

Hoop Leagues Begin Season

The 1969-70 season of the Andover YMCA Boys' Basketball Leagues got under way last Saturday with 146 boys appearing for skills training sessions directed by leagues director, Frank Monette and Physical Director Walter J. Kimball, assisted by fathers and other volunteers. Serving four age divisions the programs were conducted both at the YMCA gym and the Regional Tech High School gym.

This Saturday coaching sessions will continue with the following schedule in effect: eight-year-olds at the YMCA 2:30-3:30 p.m., Pee Wee Division (9-10 years) at the YMCA 1-2:30 p.m., Junior Division (11-12 years) at Tech gym 2:15-3:45 p.m., Intermediate Division (13-14 years) at the Tech gym 3:45-5 p.m.

All Pee Wee Division players will be requested to report verbally on Saturday their first choice in location for their games this season, either YMCA or Tech and an effort will be made to have them play at their first choice site, if at all possible.

Boys interested in playing in the League this season may still register at the YMCA, 10 Brook St. all this week except on Thursday, the holiday.

Pack 74 Holds Bobcat Election

Editorial Comment

Thanksgiving, 1969

Another Thanksgiving Day approaches, and with it the solemnity of the word itself, as well as the rejoicing that accompanies the particular holiday.

Thanksgiving, contains within its lettering, a meaning most emphatic, for the first Thanksgiving, was in every sense an expression of gratitude to God for His blessings bestowed on the Pilgrims who founded our country.

This year we feel compelled to reflect on Thanksgiving, 1969, on the words of a most beautiful, patriotic hymn, written by Katherine Lee Bates in 1893 — America, The Beautiful.

O' Beautiful For Spacious Skies

As the Pilgrims feasted centuries ago, the spacious skies above them, showed the heavenly blessings for which they had prayed, and for which Divine guidance and assistance aided them in the survival of a first winter in a new land.

Today, as America makes conquest of space, Astronauts, reaching the moon, succeeding, yet knowing that they reach but only part way toward a heavenly goal, still call upon that Divine assistance to guide them in their efforts.

For Amber Waves Of Grain

Thankfulness that we are a land of plenty. That the waves of grain are plentiful to fill our tables and that God looks over us to insure we remain a land of plenty.

For Purple Mountain Majesties/Above The Fruited Plain

Grateful, for a country of beauty. Hopeful that man's perpetual drive for affluence, his indifference toward pollution, will not destroy that splendor with which God has blessed our nation.

That majesty rising over, "the fruited plain," shrouds most assuredly, the harvest which provides for us all, those with plenty, being willing to rise to assist those less fortunate.

America! America! God Shed His Grace On Thee

What more meaningful plea could be made in these times of strife — concern about our international involvement, our national problems, our hopes for the future.

And Crown Thy Good With Brotherhood

We pray today, as those Pilgrims did years ago, that the single word — brotherhood — will become meaningful. That one day soon, we may not only here in our nation, but throughout the world, see the true spirit of the brotherhood of man, under the Fatherhood of God.

From Sea To Shining Sea.

Lord, let the brilliance of the waters wash away indifference, let man assist in relieving poverty, bring mankind together in peaceful negotiation to end war, bring humanity together as one, seeking but one goal — love and understanding for one another.

Florence McGrath

We read with regret the announcement that Mrs. Florence McGrath will retire at the end of December as the director of Andover's public school cafeterias.

Mrs. McGrath has directed the school lunch program for 26 years.

During that time she has been sort of what you might call, a "mother away from home," to thousands upon thousands of Andover youngsters.

To our knowledge, she has never failed to provide a nourishing noon lunch to the thousands of young people, whose appetites and a tender age need ample attention.

Her holiday dinners, such as the Thanksgiving fare placed on the lunch tables yesterday, have always been something to behold.

Often, we have been guests of the cafeteria department during School Lunch Week and have been rewarded by the serving of a most delicious meal.

We have been made aware that the particular occasion was not something special, but characteristic of the meals served daily to the school population.

In her over quarter of a century service, Mrs. McGrath has witnessed the tremendous growth in the school system. Working with only five schools at the inception of the program 26 years ago, Mrs. McGrath now supervises the lunch program for nine schools and over 4,200 youngsters.

That is a lot of mouths to feed, and satisfy.

Mrs. McGrath has done her job well.

She will be missed, but we wish her well in her retirement which she richly deserves after a job well done.

Detectives

Municipal departments are currently in the process of planning for the year 1970, and we feel this is an opportune time to make a slight suggestion for the protection of Andover.

We would suggest that the police department could use some assistance in the form of plain clothed detectives.

The department has some assistance in this category at present, but as the problems of the modern generation increase, we can see the need for additional help in this area.

The town is growing and will continue to grow. House breaks become more prevalent from time to time.

Of major concern is the drug problem, among the youth of the community.

Everyone knows it is there, but nobody wants to admit to it.

Why the plain clothesman?

It seems that a devoted police officer, and Andover can count several among its rolls, can gain a confidence from persons affected by crime, from persons who know of potential trouble, from those who are knowledgeable concerning drug pushers and users.

A fully-qualified and complemented detective division, could move in the proper direction to curb crime and drug abuse. It means more than a single man.

Taking possibly three members of the present uniformed branch and placing them in plain clothes, with explicit attention to investigatory activity, we think, would prove beneficial to the town.

Of The Desk

A robust bluejay, who was quick to find a bird feeder just put up for the winter, seems confident that he is going to protect his winter fodder.

He munches adequately at the small seeds spread about the feeder, but the sunflower seeds, which he apparently saves for dessert, have been placed almost to the rear of the box, stashed away for his own private pickings.

We can probably be called, "for the birds," but watching the little fellows morning and evening at the feeder is most fascinating, particularly when the different feathered friends flock to their feeding roost.

California! The land of jagged mountains and incredibly lush plains, ocean fog and brilliant sunlight will star in a film personally narrated by the photographer, Eben McMillan.

Wildlife live in immeasurable numbers on Central California's coastal plain and they are caught in all their activity on brilliantly colored film.

The film-lecture will come to Boxford's Masconomet Regional High School at 8 p.m. on Dec. 3.

Insurance authorities warn that the current influx of new automobiles, with all the advertised anti-theft devices, should not make one complacent about failing to lock the family car when it is parked.

The National Auto Theft Bureau states that it anticipates over 1,000,000 cars being stolen in the coming year, simply through the lack of taking proper safeguards.

New cars become particularly appealing to the young, officials point out. Some youths taking a car just for a joy ride, while the more professional turn them over to 'dealers' for resale.

We are becoming more and more convinced that the most popular social gathering place is not the Friday or Saturday night dance, party or what have you, but the weekly trip to the dump on the weekend.

Each week, as the housecleaning is done and disposed of at the dump, (excuse us, it's the sanitary disposal site) carloads of youngsters, fathers and mothers get together, chat for a bit, then go on their way.

Apparently, it not only gets the house clean, but makes for a little social gathering as well.

There have been reports circulated that the Internal Revenue Service sells its mailing list to organizations. Such is untrue, according to Randolph W. Thrower, commissioner of Internal Revenue, who states emphatically the only thing made available by IRS to the public are statistics based on val-

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN It has been reported that "sequential instruction" is a synonym for non-graded school. If the report can be believed, it is a puzzle because a principal characteristic of the graded school is its sequential instruction method.

It is the fulfillment of the requirements of a stage, area, or grade then progress on promotion in accord with the sequence of these recognized units.

The useful description of the non-graded method is this: broad and continuous impartation of knowledge and skill in its use and induction of initiative for applying it usefully; all without the limitations of group sequential instruction.

Incidentally this delineation also adequately defines the substance of most successful people in most fields of human activity.

At The Library

Great Books

The Great Books Discussion Group will meet on Dec. 9 at 7:30 at Memorial Hall Library. The discussion at this meeting will center around a book by Alan Watts, an author currently very popular with the young generation, entitled "The Wisdom of Insecurity."

Rotary Speaker

Ron Hubbs, associate librarian at Memorial Hall Library, has been invited to speak to the Gloucester Rotary Club on Nov. 25 on the subject of "Regional Public Service — What It Means To You." The meeting will be held at the Gloucester House. Stillman Hilton, librarian of Gloucester Public Library, invited Mr. Hubbs to tell his townspeople about the regional library service available through the Memorial Hall Library in Andover as the central library of this region.

Collection Grows

As a result of a grant which helps libraries build up their record collections, Andover's library now has approximately 1600 records. Twenty-three new records were purchased with this year's gift from The Harry Futerma Trust Fund of New York, which has sent money each year since 1949 to assist Memorial Hall Library's record collection. Among the new purchases are: "A New Sound from the Japanese Bach Scene"; "The Wild Bull" (a composition for electronic music synthesizer) by Subotnick; "The World's Greatest Jazzband of Yank Lawson and Bob Haggart"; "It's not unusual" by Tom Jones; "At Folsom Prison" by Johnny Cash and "Four Legends from 'The Kavalas'" by Sibelius.

Exhibit

There is a Thanksgiving proclamation for the year 1812 on display in the glass case in the Reading Room, also some interesting turkeys made of unusual media. Caleb Strong was governor of Massachusetts two different periods, first from 1800 to 1807 and later from 1812 to 1816. The proclamation is the property of Governor Stong's descendants and was loaned to the library for this Thanksgiving display.

Inducted Into Chapter

Mary Ellen Clukey, Andover freshman at St. Gregory's College, Shawnee, Okla., was inducted into the SGC chapter of the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students Saturday, Nov. 22 at an annual installation-reception. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clukey, 22 Mary Lou Lane.

Hospitals Benefit From Golf Tourney

Seven participating hospitals have received approximately $20,000 as a result of the first annual Hospital Open held at the Indian Ridge Country Club, in mid-August. Children's Hospital Medical Center received $10,627.00; the Lawrence General Hospital received $3,718.00; Bon Secours Hospital, Methuen received $2,650.00 and additional contributions went to St. John's Hospital, Lowell; Memorial Hospital, Nashua, N.H.; Waltham Hospital, Waltham; and New England Baptist Hospital, Boston. In addition, a dozen non-participating hospitals received varying amounts totaling about $4000.00.

In announcing the final results, Indian Ridge president Daniel E. Hogan stated that "We are most gratified that the first New England event of this nature has been concluded so successfully." He added that the results and response in this initial 72-hole PGA Tour Championship event "has encouraged us to embark upon an even more ambitious program in 1970." He added that "this year's $40,000 purse will be expanded to at least $50,000 and we are confident that the financial results of this year's event will also result in greater effort by the participating hospitals next year." Mr. Hogan added that the possibility of obtaining sponsorship from a major corporation could greatly increase benefits to the participating hospitals next year. He noted that the Westchester Hospital Classic has raised more than $1 million for the six participating hospitals over the past three years. He added that -- while the Indian Ridge Hospital Open still has a long way to go, we have made a good beginning and "we feel that we can attain greatly increased benefits for the hospitals of our area over the next few years."

Military Wives Club Forming

A Military Waiting Wives club is being formed in the Greater Lawrence area for the benefit of those whose relatives are currently serving in service-connected posts.

The initial meeting is scheduled to be held on Dec. 5, at a location to be designated later, following registration of those interested in joining.

Further information and registration may be made by contacting the Lawrence Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Education Via A Computer

Maybe a computer is no substitute for brains, but the School Committee learned last week that a computer can be a big help, anyway, in getting an Andover High School student to the right college, or the right job.

At last week's school committee meeting in the high school library, Guidance Director William Igoe, Guidance Counselor Robert Kelly, and a handful of seniors demonstrated the effectiveness of the Interactive Learning Systems, a rented computer service set up to assist in college placement, vocational and occupational counseling. Students use a teletype to retrieve a vast amount of detailed up-to-date information on colleges and training schools or about specific skills and training required for any one of thousands of different vocations or occupations.

Students said it saved time leafing through catalogues, and widened their college possibilities to include colleges they otherwise might not have heard of. Perry explained that the student feeds into the computer his criteria, in descending order of priority; The terminal types out within moments, and in detail, every college in America which meets the student's priority criteria - for example, tuition costs it is possible to meet, specific fields of study and facilities offered, preferred size and location of college, and an average college board score of the student body, which matches the student's scores closely enough to make admittance to the college a realistic possibility. Igoe said that with the use of this computer, the guidance department was in late October, as far along in finishing college applications as they usually were in January, near deadline time. Emphasis will then move to vocational and occupational information retrievable to assist students not bound for college in their next year's plans. Eleventh grade students then will be invited to use the computer services, within the 300 hours time allotment.

The demonstration effectively convinced the committee members that use of the Cambridge-based ILS data base significantly extends the abilities of the guidance department to help students make educational and occupational choices, and justifies the $4350 annual expense -- $750 for rental of the terminal, plus $3600 for 300 hours of the data base service, and phone, including any repairs needed.

Committeemember William King advised continued renting of the terminal instead of visiting FinCom head Dr. Allan Greenberg's suggestion to buy the computer terminal. King pointed out that in the three years it would take for purchase to put us ahead, technological advances might make that particular terminal obsolete. Also, repairs would be extra. Better to rent.

Messersmith Named MVP On Soccer Team

David Messersmith of Andover has been named the Most Valuable Defensive Player of this season's Nichols College soccer team at the college's annual Fall Sports Banquet held Thursday, Nov. 20.

Head Coach Bill Steglitz made the announcement that Messersmith was voted the honor by his teammates.

Messersmith played goalie for the Nichols booters this fall. He made 171 saves on the season and in 12 games was scored upon only 16 times. He was known for his spectacular diving saves and on three occasions this season he shut-out opponents.

Nichols finished the season with a 5-5-3 record. The Bisons defeated Fitchburg State, Assumption, Worcester State, Franklin Pierce, and Bryant while they tied Nasson, Holy Cross and Boston College.

Messersmith, a graduate of Andover High School, is a junior majoring in marketing. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Messersmith of 22 Cutler Road.

Joe Doherty, the former Andover High standout, is a member of the Brown University winter track squad.

A sophomore middle distance runner, Joe specializes in the 600. With the frosh last year, he won meets against Harvard, Penn, Columbia, and Holy Cross.

He has run 50.7 in the 440, and 1:15 in the 600.

Coming to Brown after serving as captain of his high school team, Joe is expected to do some fine running for Coach Ivan Fuqua's squad. His brother Bill captained last year's Boston College track squad.

An engineering major, Joe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doherty of 11 Locke St.

Eagles Cop 'Y' Soccer League Title

The first Andover YMCA Soccer league for boys in grades four to six was concluded this week. The Eagles, with a record of four victories and one tie won the league title with the Falcons in second place with a record of three wins, one tie and one defeat. The Roadrunners and the Hawks tied for third with identical records.

The league started late in September under the direction of Bill Stevens with Dan Diggs and Anders Bro assisting. Physical Director Walter J. Kimball supervised. The program included coaching of basic skills plus two rounds of league play for the four teams involved. All games were played at the Phillips Academy fields opposite the new Bancroft school.

All regular participants will receive league emblems and individual statuettes were awarded to the following members of the first place team, the Eagles. Captain Brian Twomey, Dan Billings, Peter Barrett, Anthony Coumans, Dave Farrell, Steve Kent, Raymond Rau, George Donovan, Thomas Soch, Chris O'Hara.

Results Of Over-Thirty Hoop Contests

The second evening for the Thirty And Over Basketball League saw Perilberg of the Pick-Ups score an amazing 21 points. In spite of this, the team bowed to the Strobes 49 to 39. MacPherson and Mitchell too strong by racking up 17 and 14 points for the winning team.

The Hornets easily won over the Padres by 48 to 28. Livingston, Maxwell and Fernandez all shot in the teens for the Hornets. High scorers for the Padre's were Niceforo and Palmieri with eight points apiece.

It was a tight game between the Sweepers and the Falcons. The difference came in the third quarter when Schenk sank four big baskets for the Sweepers. His final 16 point shooting led the Sweepers to a 39 to 30 lead. Top scorer for the Falcons was Whitely.

The Dasaplayers must have read the schedule incorrectly. They were unable to field their team until after a forfeit had been awarded to Dana's.

At the end of the evening, there was a three way tie for first place between the Hornets, Dana's, and Strobes.

Games are played at the high school on Thursday evening starting at 7:15. The next games will be played Dec. 4.

Secretarial Association.

The work program submitted by Assistant Superintendent Vaughn I. Clapp reveals that Seifert is expanding this administrator's scope beyond responsibility for elementary education. He will have system-wide responsibility for improving the budget-making function, and working for improved mental health and special programs to aid children who are experiencing educational difficulties.

The new West Elementary School redistricting for next September is the result of assurances that the addition to the school will be ready for occupancy on schedule at that time. The new West Elementary school district will be as follows:

From Sanborn School district; north side of Lowell Street to Lawrence and Tewksbury boundaries. From Shawsheen School district; Shawsheen Highlands, Canterbury Street, Lowell Street, Marwood Drive, Iceland Road, Castle Heights Road, plus all of grade 6 from Stowe School.

The plan will take 128 pupils from Sanborn, 79 pupils from Shawsheen when the sixth grade (now in Stowe) is included, and 90 pupils from Central - their entire sixth grade.

Clapp explained that educational planners must assume that the Central School will be renovated and expanded. He said it is not certain whether Stowe will be literally gone next September, but the West Elementary School will offer the pupils space, and such superior facilities that it would be unfair to the children not to put them there. He pointed out that West would, in the next two years, have space to accommodate Central School's sixth grade, while Central was being renovated, after which Central would have room for its own sixth grade for the first time in years, and this would empty West Addition rooms for that school's own growth. The school committee unanimously backed the plan.

The school committee approved Dr. Seifert's extending an indefinite leave of absence for health reasons to Miss Isabelle Phelan, the high school dean of girls and girls' guidance director. Miss Phelan is leaving for Washington, D.C. for medical testing and treatment, and Seifert said he sent her off with the injunction to worry about nothing except getting well, and then coming back.

Miss Phelan's substitute will be Miss Donna J. Marcotte, approved by the school committee Tuesday night, with the salary to be determined after AEA contract stipulations are worked out.

Other appointments approved were those of three P.E.R.C. tutors, Mrs. Jean Foster, Mrs. Ann Issenberg and Mrs. Marion Brehm, at $5 per hour.

The schoolmen also okeyed new bus contracts with Don Craig, at $7575 and Richard Flynn, at $7500. After a discussion of the comparative benefits, advantages and disadvantages of Andover's driver-owned school bus arrangements, versus school-owned or rented bus service, they asked Seifert to report to them by next November with his recommendations.

Fire Log

The Andover Fire Department responded to the following calls between the period Nov. 18 and Nov. 24.

Nov. 18 - Internal Revenue, Lowell St., accidental alarm. Box 342, Bancroft School, Bancroft Road, false alarm.

Nov. 21 - Robert Davis, Tanglewood Way, automobile fire.

Nov. 22 - Boston and Maine, Lowell Jct. Road, honest mistake. Peter Grogan, Balmoral St., electrical fire.

Nov. 23 - Mass. Electric Co., Bancroft Road, utility pole. Paul Fortuna, River Road, tractor fire. Bancroft School, Bancroft Road, investigation.

Nov. 24 - Mass. Electric Co., Bancroft Road, utility pole.

The Andover Fire Department ambulance responded to thirteen calls during the same period.

Former Resident Is Honored

Military and church representatives recently joined together in Ayer, to pay tribute to Mrs. Flora "Ma" White, a former Andover resident, who celebrated her 95th birthday.

Mrs. White received a "G" and "Job Penman Award," from Brigadier General J. H. Cushman of Fort Devens, honoring her for her 25 years of service as the hostess of the Hospitality House, in Ayer, which has been a meeting place for members of the military stationed at that base.

Rev. Eric W. Grimshaw, director of Hospitality House, also joined in the tribute to the former Andover resident.

Several letters from members of the U. S. Army formerly stationed at Fort Devens were also presented to her on the occasion.

Christ Church Fair Will Benefit Retarded

Bethany, a home for retarded children now being built in Lincoln, will benefit from the Christ Church Christmas Fair to be held on Saturday, Dec. 6, at the parish hall. Several sisters of the Order of St. Anne, which has long been involved in caring for more than 50,000 children throughout the world, will help at the fair for which many parishioners of Christ Church are working.

Mrs. David Edwards is chairman of the Bethany Christmas Fair which will offer shoppers a variety of unusual items selected for Christmas giving including handmade articles, original paintings, knitted goods, dried flowers, Christmas greens, jewelry and gifts for children.

Mrs. William Warntz and Mrs. Wilfred Swenson head a group who have fashioned attractive aprons for the benefit event, and busy workers under the direction of Mrs. Malcolm Battles will sell a wide selection of gifts they have made. Mrs. Nelson Briggs heads a committee who have created many gifts for children.

For the browser and bargain-hunter, Mrs. George Judge and Mrs. James Hamilton have collected an interesting variety of attic treasures. Mrs. Lyman Pope and Mrs. Carleton Kimball head a knitting committee who will sell handsome articles made for the fair. New this year will be a collection of dried flowers for home decoration arranged by a committee directed by Mrs. Peter McKee.

Highly-prized original paintings done by talented members of Christ Church have been given for sale at the benefit Bethany Christmas fair. They will be sold by Mrs. Roger Eckfeldt whose own work will be included.

Mrs. George Bixby will show jewelry especially selected for Christmas gifts, and Mrs. Robert Gable and Mrs. T. R. D. Collins will have plants carefully chosen for the home at another fair table.

Interesting books for all kinds of readers have been collected by Mrs. Thomas Stark and Mrs. Hale Sturges, who will sell the books at reduced prices. Mrs. Charles Kirk and her committee have created many beautiful Christmas greens and holiday decorations for the benefit fair.

"Kountry Kitchen" featuring old-fashioned, homemade baked beans, breads, ham and salad will be in charge of Mrs. Don Larson and Mrs. Samuel Rogers. Pastries and other homemade favorite foods will be sold at the bakery table for which the chairman is Mrs. Clark Lewis.

Malcolm Ruhl will preside at the popular wedge of country store cheese and members of the junior Episcopal youth group will sell penny candy. To help mothers with children, baby-sitting by Girl Scouts of Mrs. Robert Wilton's troop will be available.

A perennial attraction of the Christ Church event will be featured - an expert shoeshine at an authentic brass shoeshine stand imported from Arabia.

Luncheon with a varied menu prepared by church members will be served at modest prices from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. in a dining room where Mrs. Paul Gyrsting will be the hostess assisted by senior youth group members.

Mrs. Sebastian Cavallaro and her committee will decorate Christ Church parish hall for the benefit fair for which James Polioian will be treasurer.

Fair posters have been done by Mr. and Mrs. Everett Aubrey and Mrs. William van Brunt, Mrs. Walter Whinn is telephone chairman and Mrs. Robert Kenney has prepared the publicity.

Anniversary Dance Set For Center

On Dec. 6, there will be a first anniversary dance at the Christian Formation Center, 475 River Road. Dancing will be from 8 to 12 p.m. and a buffet will be served at 10 p.m. Music will be provided by a well-known local orchestra. Tickets are available to the public who wish to celebrate with the people of CFC on the occasion of the first anniversary and as a Christmas Party.

The committee members are as follows: chairman, Mrs. Barry V. Lloyd, co-chairman, Miss Barbara Varoski, ticket chairman, Ralph Parrotta, decoration chairman, Edward Flynn. Further information may be obtained by calling the Christian Formation Center.

Hughes Named Area Chairman

William S. Hughes, 18 Orchard St., has been named chairman of the Andover area of the Friends' Fund drive for the Episcopal Theological School, 99 Brattle St., Cambridge, according to the announcement made by James Garfield, Boston, general chairman of the school's annual giving program. Samuel D. Warren of Beverly, is the Friends' Fund chairman.

K. of C. Auxiliary To Have Party

The Knights of Columbus Council 1078 of Andover Ladies Auxiliary will have its Christmas party on Tuesday, Dec. 16 at 7:30 p.m. at Briarcliff, Osgood St.

Dinner will be followed by singing of the Merrimac Valley Singers.

Ladies may make reservations through Dec. 9 by calling Mrs. Eugene J. Croke. Plans for the January Theatre Party will be discussed.

Federal Thrift Award Given To Credit Union

An Andover Federal credit union has earned a Thrift Honor Award for its success in stimulating savings among small savers according to Walter W. Mode, regional director of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Andover School and Municipal Employees Federal Credit Union at Andover East Junior High attained a monthly growth rate of 4.9 percent in accounts under $1000, Mode said. This growth rate was well above the average of Federal credit unions the size of Andover school and municipal employees.

On Sept. 30, 1969 the credit union had 247 members who had saved a total of $68,879.42. The credit union has served employees of the Andover School and municipal employees since Feb. 11, 1964. John Fairburn is president and Warren Maddox manager of the facility.

The Bureau of Federal Credit Unions conducts its Thrift Honor Award program to provide an incentive for officials of Federal credit unions to encourage members with small accounts to save regularly as part of their family financial plans. The Bureau charts and supervises over 12,500 Federal credit unions in the United States and is part of the Social Security Administration of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

My son, the shake man... Yes, shake man, window man, grill man, bun man, meat man or wrap man - these are some of the jobs filled by the young men pictured above at McDonald's, 195 North Main Street, Andover. This is a small part of the forty man crew, made up mostly of high school and college men who work full or part-time at McDonald's in Andover.

When you step up to the window at McDonald's, you may be served by an engineering major, math major, English major or any one of an elite group of high school students. They all maintain good grades and still work from ten to thirty hours a week at McDonald's. McDonald's is proud of them and is sure their parents are too. Did you ever serve five hundred people at lunch? McDonald's does, every day! And the crew, working as a skilled team, turns out enough food fast enough so that no one waits more than a few minutes for his order. It takes lots of skill, and these fellows have it.

Of course, there's no way of telling if the skills learned by these young men will help them become better engineers or lawyers. However, there's no denying the fact that serving the public at McDonald's gives them day-to-day experience in responsibility, public relations, patience and other areas that may prove vital to their chosen vocation.

The fact may be that a good shake man makes a better lawyer than someone who never worked at McDonald's. And being able to make a good hamburger never hurt anyone; in fact, it may prove particularly useful to prospective husbands.

In order to speed up service to its customers, McDonald's is now in the process of enlarging its store front, and upon completion will be able to handle twice as fast, all present customers plus any new ones that stop for lunch.

The Andover McDonald's at the Golden Arches, is owned and operated by Thomas H. Curtin, who resides with his wife and children in Andover.

Technology poses no threat to secretaries, according to the U.S. Department of Labor. Despite new copying machines, dictating equipment, and automatic typewriters, the ranks of secretaries, stenographers and typists have been booming. In 1975, the Labor Department anticipates that there will be 3,901,040 secretaries, stenographers and typists, and that they will make up almost 4.5 percent of a work force totaling 88,660,000.

The U.S. Department of Labor is studying the effects on the poor of occupational licensing requirements. More than 1 in 10 of the Nation's workers are in jobs requiring licenses. The Department has a particular interest in seeing that entry into occupations remains reasonably open to the increasing number of young men and women entering the labor market. Preliminary studies show that the maze of occupational licensing requirements is preventing the poor and the disadvantaged from entering a wide variety of work where there are manpower shortages.

School Board Negotiations Begin To Show Progress

Mrs. Cole proposed that secondary teachers be paid 6% of their annual base salary (AEA asked 9%) for their six weeks course, and that that elementary summer school teachers receive 4% (AEA asked 6%) of their annual base salary for the 4 week elementary summer school course. Both summer schools run for half-days and the percentage difference between elementary and secondary reflects the fact that the secondary summer school runs two weeks longer. Mrs. Cole said that in

This Christmas rediscover the fun of making music

Put a Baldwin Home Organ under your tree

This Christmas give your family a gift of lasting fun—a Baldwin Home Organ. If you've ever studied music—however briefly—you'll probably be playing your Baldwin before all the presents are open. If you've never studied music you'll find it easy and exciting to learn. A Baldwin Organ is a gift the whole family can enjoy.

Picture yourself at the console of this attractive, versatile Baldwin Organ on Christmas morning.

You'll r

family a gift

Put a whole orchestra at your fingertips

You'll delight in the variety of musical sounds your Baldwin will deliver.
Smooth, lilting reeds, brassy horns, eloquent strings, toe-tapping percussion and rhythm effects—endless musical adventure at the flick of a finger.
No other instrument is so versatile . . .
so entertaining.

You'll recapture the gaiety of the golden era at the horseshoe console of one of these Baldwin Theatre Organs

Let us show you what beautiful fun an organ can be

Let us show you how easy it is to play a Baldwin . . . how many models and styles you can choose from—all with Baldwin's exclusive Rhythm Percussion. With 16 models in all, you're sure to find a Baldwin to suit your furniture style and your preference in wood finishes. Most important you'll find a Baldwin Home Organ to suit your budget.

There's a kaleidoscope of musical fun awaiting you in the classic Model 77R (left) and the transitionally styled Model 91R (right).

Your child will get more out of piano than just music

Piano lessons can do wonders for a child's future. Whether he goes on to be an accomplished pianist, or just a so-so player, he will have been helped to develop qualities like poise, self-confidence, and concentration, that will do much to further his chances for a full, happy life.

It's easy to have a Baldwin in your home. Ask about our easy payment plans; you can even rent a new Baldwin—just to be sure before you buy. Years from now your child will thank you.
